

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

The moral message and educational values in the film A New Breed Of Hero can be traced through socialist rules contained in the concept of relationships (relationships with himself, relationships with fellow living beings and human relationships with God). By maintaining this concept, humans will find the true meaning of life, in the context of education forming a moral soul and obtaining commendable values is the main goal of the implementation of education.

Furthermore, in the movie A New Breed of Hero, it can be seen that there is a role that depicts morals and noble educational values. By implementing the concept of relationship, it can be seen that the moral meaning and educational values contained in the movie can form good characteristics, including: having a sense of responsibility, courage, honesty, friendship, helping each other, having a sense of family, having a strong faith and the amount of gratitude for the favors given by God. With the meaning revealed in the film, it is deeply interpreted that instilling the concept of relationships in life can form and develop empathy in education as well as in everyday life.

B. Suggestion

This research is expected to be a source of reference in developing the characteristics of a person related to good morals and values, especially in the educational environment. In addition, by instilling and cultivating good and positive values and norms in a person is an important part of life, especially in the world of education. Researchers hope that the results of this study can be realized and can be applied in a comprehensive manner, applying humanist science and implementing various good morals and character education in everyday life.