

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. CONCLUSION

Based on the findings and discussion in the previous chapter, the results of the analysis, the writer describes the research's findings. The findings of this research include the forms of metaphor used in Niki's song lyrics, an understanding of the significance of the metaphors used in Niki's song lyrics, and the discovery of the usage of metaphor in English teaching. The analysis of the data revealed that 5 tracks, including Ocean & engines, Before, Anaheim, Backburner, and Keeping tabs, were already associated with metaphorical expression. According to (Lakoff & Johnson, 1980) in (Setiyawan, 2017) there are three different sorts of metaphor: structural, orientational, and ontological. All of these songs are marked as having metaphorical language. All the three types of metaphor has been found in the chosen lyrics by Niki songs. Then the writer found forty-eight lyrics that use metaphoric expression as the way the singer write the songs.

The writer also made an effort to clarify the message by writing out each of the 48 sentences included in Niki's five songs. The writer classified the 48 metaphor-using lyrics into three categories and then attempted to explain their meaning by analyzing the lyrics. According to Georgie Lakoff and Mark Johnson's theory, the lyrics' findings show that there are three different sorts of metaphor. The 48 metaphorical lyrics discovered during this research are consistent with three ideas from (Lakoff & Johnson) structural metaphor, orientational metaphor, and ontological metaphor. Additionally, the author was able to interpret the metaphoric components in the song lyrics.

The writer of this study discovers prevalent metaphors utilized in songs by vocalists. According to the writer Ontological metaphor is the one that is employed in the lyrics of the songs on this Nicole album the most. The writer uncovers additional justifications for why ontological metaphors are among the most widely utilized sorts of metaphors in song lyrics.

Based on the result, it can be concluded that metaphor is one of the most important parts to write lyrics in a song. By understanding each type of metaphor can help the future researcher and future reader to be more understand about the meaning of song lyrics that the singer wants to deliver. The use of metaphor in writing a sing make the song lyrics more aesthetical and more attractive.

B. SUGESSTION

The writer gives some suggestion for the other reader and the further researcher. The explanation is explained as followings:

1. For Further Researcher

In order to make this research more particular and in-depth, the writer advises the next researcher to expand it. The writer confesses that she still lacks clarity in her descriptions of the facts she has gleaned from the research that has been done, and she believes that there are still some errors in this study. The writer also hopes that future studies will be able to examine other aspects of songs, such as expertise, in addition to metaphor, in addition to merely metaphor.

2. For Institution

With this research, it is hoped that it will add insight to institutions, especially Metro Muhammadiyah University. for institutions is expected to increase literacy about metaphors.

3. For Other Reader

The other reader is expected to be inspired and to be familiar about metaphor, so that the reader could learn in detail and specific way about metaphor more deeply in the future.
